

Tax Credit for Energy Improvements!

We have received several inquiries from our customers concerning possible tax credits for energy improvements under the Stimulus Plan.

Yes, there are a/c and heating systems that do qualify for tax credit, as well as some insulation, fuel cells, windows, etc. All items have different qualifications and credit amounts. A good resource for answers to your questions is www.energystar.gov.

If you have questions about specific a/c and heating systems Guinco installs that may qualify for the $1,500.00 stimulus credit and the $1,000.00 Trane rebate, give us at call at 817-568-2866. We'll be glad to help!

Happy Fourth of July!

Have a safe and happy holiday!

June Movie Review of "Star Trek"

If you haven't gone to see this movie yet, make a point to do so! It is great! Basically, the storyline takes us back in time to the beginnings of the original crew (Kirk, et al); how they became Star Fleet cadets and how they met. For Trekkies, lots of funny nods to the original television show. But even for those unfamiliar with this franchise, there's no need to know any background to enjoy the show.

Lots of humor, lots of great action, and great special effects will please viewers of any age.

The cast is superb, especially Zachary Quinto as Spock (Heroes fans will recognize him as Sylar), Karl Urban as Dr. "Bones" McCoy, and Chris Pine as the young James Tiberius Kirk. The rest of the original crew is well represented with lots of emphasis on humor as we see how all eventually end up on board the maiden voyage of the Enterprise. The only odd note is a strange side story involving Uhura which is completely invented for this movie. But, only die hard Trekkies will completely raise up in arms. Creative license leaves this Star Trek voyage wide open for future ventures into the final frontier. Personally, I can't wait for the next! This movie gets 5 penguins!

Summer Refrigerator Tip It's That Time of the Year!

by J.D. Moss, Service Manager

Temperatures are warming up outside, meaning this is the time to think about cleaning your condensers on all your refrigerator and freezer products. This is because the temperature rises outside, and your home warms up inside. Your refrigerators and freezers start working more to keep their temperatures at your settings.

A dirty condenser can cause them to work harder and use more energy than they need too, or can also cause them to not cool. The good news about cleaning your condensers is that most Manufacturers makes them accessible and even have instructions on how to do it in their Use and Care Manual.

Don't have your use and care manuals? No problem! Most are available On-Line. Just go to the manufacturers website and normally under a link for "customer support/care" or "owners center/corner", and look for "manuals/literature", and enter your model number. Would you just like to have it cleaned for you? Again, No problem! Just give us a call here at Guinco Service, or schedule on-line at www.guinco.com.

Guinco Spotlight on DUSTIN FOUGHT!

How long have you been with Guinco, and what do you do? I have been here 7 years now, and I am a full line appliance tech.

What's your most memorable customer experience? There are too many, but one I will never forget is a Customer flipping a breaker while I was working on their Cooktop! That's an unforgettable lesson.

Would you say you have somewhat of a sweet tooth? Yup, but I'm trying to cut down on the sugars! (Note to customers—Dustin LOVES cookies and cupcakes)

What's the last movie you went to see and did you like it? I went to see "I Love You Man". It was okay.

If we came to your house and looked in your refrigerator, what would we find? Hmmm.... Organic baby food, yogurt. The normal things. I really don't get in there much.

Any advice for new parents out there? Soak up the first year. It goes by so fast!
